

Using evidence to create better student experiences in higher education

What’s the best way to design PowerPoint slides?
 What types of feedback enhance learning? What kinds of learning activities are best for my students?

If you’re seeking confidence about your teaching practices, INSPIRE is the project for you. INSPIRE provides instructors with digestible summaries of highest-level evidence about what works in higher education. Sign up for one of our introductory workshops below.

WHAT'S ON OFFER?

-  A toolkit for finding evidence
-  Simple and concrete strategies
-  Recognition for time and effort

“This is fantastic! It's such a valuable and effective way to help us. I can already see areas where thinking through this information in connection with the course content will lead to further queries and refinements.”
